AL Elite Financing is a matching service, not a lender. This resource is general information, not legal, tax, insurance or financial advice.

Your numbers today

A	Estimates per month
B	Close rate (%)
C	Average ticket ($)
D	Monthly booked revenue = A × B × C

Be honest about B. Count signed contracts, not verbal yeses.

What financing could change

Use conservative assumptions. Many contractors see close rate and ticket both rise when a monthly option is presented at every estimate.

E	Close rate with financing (%) Try B + 5 points
F	Average ticket with financing ($) Try C × 1.05
G	Monthly revenue with financing = A × E × F
H	Share of jobs financed (%) Often 25–40%
I	Average dealer fee on financed jobs (%) 0% on standard plans; 5–12% on promo
J	Monthly dealer fees = G × H × I
K	Net gain per month = G − D − J

Example

40 estimates, 30% close, $15,000 ticket = $180,000/month. With 35% close and a 5% larger ticket: $220,500. Minus fees on the financed share, the gain is usually well above $30,000/month. Your numbers will differ, which is why you measure.

90-day tracker

Track the same five numbers before and after. Fill one row per month.

Where the sale breaks, and the fix

'We need to think about it'
Often means 'we can't pay that today'. Show the monthly figure next to the total at the first visit.

The downgrade
Show upgrade options as a payment difference, not a lump sum.

The competitor with a payment
Two quotes at $16,000; one says 'about $340 a month'. Be that one.

The silent no
Follow up with a pre-qualification link that uses a soft pull.

- [ ] Financing mentioned early as one of three ways to pay
- [ ] Total price and APR always shown next to the monthly figure
- [ ] Soft-pull pre-qualification offered
- [ ] Never promised approval or quoted a rate not in writing
- [ ] Decline path decided (second-look lender, co-applicant, smaller scope)
